INTRODUCTION

Prior to Elon Musk's acquisition of Twitter, the crypto community has always understood that meme tokens originating from tweets are valuable. They are meta, they are funny, and they cause incredible moonshots in crypto. With Elon now pushing the agenda of "making twitter fun," we are in for nonstop memes and meta straight from the majority holder of the platform.

THE ISSUE

Everyone is always searching to find which twitter meme project will be "the one." Most of twitter-inspired tokens are launched simultaneously meaning they are directly competing with one another making it hard for investors to choose wisely. Often, they are short-term pump and dumps or even rug pulls. The long-term risk/reward of aping into these plays just isn't there.

THE SOLUTION – eTweet

eTweet is a ecosystem solely focused on transforming tweet meme coins into a more appealing long-term position. The funds from our tax structure will provide liquidity to fund new low-tax token projects when tweets go viral. We will refer to these projects as Tweet Tokens.

TWEET TOKENS

Instead of Tweet Tokens requiring their own tax funds to market themselves, we will raise liquidity for the projects through eTweet's taxes. The taxes of the Tweet Tokens will go towards buy backs and burns of eTweet. We will use our devs, web designers, marketeers and marketing funds from eTweet to push Tweet Tokens, as their success directly benefits the entire ecosystem. Investors are incentivised to hold eTweet and buy into Tweet Tokens as the two work together to deliver financial gains. We see our ecosystem as the future in the meme token space and are proud to share this with the crypto community.

TREASURY WALLET

1% of Tweet Token taxes will be sent to a treasury wallet. The top 10% of eTweet holders will be able to present and vote on projects to invest in using funds from the treasury wallet through a voting protocol designed and deployed in Phase II.
